

JD Journal Names Gallagher Evelius & Jones LLP Top Baltimore Healthcare Boutique

Summary: JD Journal has identified the best healthcare boutique in Baltimore.

As the largest city in Maryland, Baltimore offers its almost 622,000 residents a unique living experience--a harbor town with a diverse population and a robust local culture. Filmmaker John Waters loves to capture the city's quirkiness and history in his cult films such as Cry Baby and Hairspray, and tourists flock to the Charm City to try its famous steamed crabs and visit Fort McHenry National Park, which is where Francis Scott Key penned "The Star Spangled Banner."

But while Baltimore is known for its art, food, and history, the city is also home to the esteemed John Hopkins Hospital, which is one of the leading employers in the service-oriented Baltimore economy. In addition to John Hopkins, the city also has other major health centers such as Mercy Medical Center and the University of Maryland Medical Center. With such prestigious healthcare providers in the area, it makes sense that a boutique health care law firm would open shop in the area.

This year, JD Journal has identified the best healthcare boutiques in the country, and it has named Gallagher Evelius & Jones LLP as the best in Baltimore. The firm handles healthcare litigation, real estate, staffing, compliance, and more.

"We're proud of our role in shaping health care in Maryland," the company website states. "In the past 50 years, we've represented hospitals and hospital systems, long-term care facilities, home health and hospice agencies, academic medical centers, continuing care retirement communities, multi-specialty physician groups, and other tax-exempt and for-profit health care organizations."

The firm was formed by Frank Gallagher and John C. Evelius in 1961. According to the firm's website, almost 65% of their team have worked at the firm for 10 years, showing a commitment to creating longstanding relationships with their clients.
