

Cohen Milstein Hires Litigators Away from Schoengold

Cohen Milstein has hired two new litigators for its New York office, Joel Laitman and Christopher Lometti, both from Schoengold Sporn Laitman Lometti.

Laitman and Lometti will handle complex securities fraud and investor protection litigation. Both were name partners at Schoengold.

New York City's Schoengold Sporn Laitman & Lometti is a leading securities fraud law firm that specializes in the representation of individuals, Taft-Hartley pension and benefit funds and other Institutional Investors in securities fraud class action and derivative litigation.

Cohen Milstein Sellers & Toll is a plaintiffs' class action law firm, with offices Washington DC, New York, Chicago and Philadelphia.