

Laugh Out Loud with the Best Legal Joke of the Day - Legal Humor to Brighten Your Day

A group of dinner guests was blaming all of America's troubles on lawyers when a woman said, "They aren't all so bad. Why, last year a lawyer gave me $1,000."
"I don't believe it," the host responded. "It's true, I swear it," said the woman.

"I had a complicated personal injury case and what with the lawyer's fee, the cost of expert witnesses, the expense of the appeal and so on, my bill was $41,000. When the judgment only amounted to $40,000, my lawyer simply forgave the difference."

