

Ogletree Brings on Partners

Labor law firm Ogletree Deakins has brought on two new partners in San Francisco, hired away from Davis Wright Tremaine.

Maria Anastas represents employers in labor and employment matters, with an emphasis on traditional labor issues.

Aaron Roblan represents clients in state and federal court litigation.

Ogletree, Deakins, Nash, Smoak & Stewart, PC is the nation's third largest labor and employment law firm, representing management in all types of employment-related legal matters. The firm has more than 450 lawyers located in 35 offices from Miami to Los Angeles.